A high priority construction project is underway in the Neustadt-Glewe-Moebbelin area, about one kilometer east of Moebbelin. The area is about twenty hectares and is fenced in. Fences also run inside the complex. In each section buildings and halls are being built. A 40 - meter high tower is also to be constructed. A nine-ton electric machine belonging to the project is lying at the Neustadt railway station. It is not known how the machine is to be transported to the site of operations. In conversations about the construction project, experts state that all the signs are present for it to be a radar station.
